

GAUNTLET BIRDS OF PREY PHOTOGRAPHY COMPETITION RULES

Photographs must be of birds from Gauntlet Birds of Prey's collection, taken either at Gauntlet or any occasion where Gauntlet is participating.

Photographs should be submitted by the person who took them and therefore owns the copyright.

Submissions should be by email to photos@gauntlet.info

Photographs posted on Gauntlet's Facebook page that are to be entered in the competition should also be emailed to photos@gauntlet.info to ensure inclusion.

By submitting photographs, the photographer agrees that Gauntlet may use photographs free of charge on Gauntlet Birds of Prey's website.

Gauntlet will not use photographs for any other purpose than on the website, without prior permission.

Gauntlet acknowledges the photographer's copyright.

The closing date for entries is 31st December.

Gauntlet does not commit to announcing the short-list and final results by any specific date.

The short list is made up of selected final contenders, and will be announced on Gauntlet's website.

All photographer's on the short-list will be contacted individually and invited to attend a winner's event, when the winners and runners-up will be announced and certificates presented.

The winners and runners-up will be announced on Gauntlet's website after the winner's event.

Gauntlet does not guarantee or offer any specific prizes or rewards.
